Leading the way is a tough job. But someone has to do it.

We've been leading the way for a very long time.

"Leading the way" is more than just a saying at Team CSSA -- it's something we do every day.

Protecting the rights of Canada's firearms owners and gun clubs is our mission - and our members say we do it very well.

As the country's largest and most effective group working for sport shooters, the CSSA's influence reaches the highest levels of government.

It's more than simply great range insurance. The firearms community needs an experienced, credible voice speaking on their behalf. It's what we do and it's what you need. Join our team and help us fight for you.

Join Team CSSA today!

"In the many years I have been involved with firearm issues in Canada, there is one organization that stands head and shoulders above the rest and that organization is the Canadian Shooting Sports Association and its legislative arm, the Canadian Institute for Legislative Action."

For professionalism, credibility, activism and just plain hard work on behalf of its members, the CSSA is the undeniable choice for Canadians fighting to preserve and enhance their right to own and use firearms."

I strongly encourage all firearm owners to, at the earliest opportunity, join and support the CSSA and become part of the most progressive firearms community in Canada... the CSSA."

— Garry Breitkreuz, M.P.
Yorkton-Melville
(1993-2015)

"Every time good firearms legislation comes out of the House of Commons, CSSA is behind it. Every time bad firearms legislation comes out of the House of Commons, CSSA is in front of it."

— Bob Zimmer M.P.,
Co-Chair - Parliamentary Outdoors Caucus

"The CSSA has a great reputation for advocating the preservation of Canada's heritage activities. This association has dedicated people who work very hard behind the political scenes to make sure Canadians can stay involved in the shooting sports. If you are a hunter, farmer, trapper or target shooter, you owe it to yourself to buy a CSSA membership."

— Bob Izumi

Firearm Insurance

GunGuard covers your firearms for loss, theft and damage

Until now, firearm owners in Canada have had to rely on home insurance policies to cover their firearms. But home insurance providers are increasingly moving to restrict limits on firearms and in some cases, outright excluding them. That's why we created GunGuard. If your firearms are lost, stolen or suffer damage, GunGuard has you covered.

Flexible Coverage Options

Choose from three levels of coverage to suit your insurance needs:

$25,000 coverage limit	$50,000 coverage limit	$75,000 coverage limit	$150,000 coverage limit
$60 per year	$90 per year	$120 per year	$235 per year

Your privacy matters, so that's why GunGuard does not require any details of your firearms unless they are high value or considered unique or rare.

news - trade - community

CanadianGunNutz.com is celebrating its 20th anniversary this year!

We are the first Canadian gun forum community and the first Canadian internet based firearms trading space. Yes, before the time of FB, IG and Reddit, CanadianGunNutz CGN, already existed.

The story of CanadianGunNutz began in down town Toronto back in early 2000's. An office worker was spending too much time on American websites. He saw that there were many Canadian specific gun topics that could be better served by a dedicated Canadian community, so he set out to develop a solution. After years of clocking 80 hours a week while doing his day job, CGN has evolved from a small place to an establishment in the Canadian gun world.

CGN is a community first and foremost. We have firearms news from our business partners, as well as public discussion space for all members to exchange information. Our trading space exists to help members to exchange firearms and equipment. The community is free to join and access is open to all.

We hope to meet you soon!
